

Orlando Sentinel

★ FINAL EDITION

Friday, December 22, 2017

$2.00

Weather

8 A.M.: 66°
2 P.M.: 76°
5 P.M.: 78°
CHANCE OF RAIN: 0%

WEATHER REPORT, C8

Index

BUSINESS.....A10
COMICS B6
DEATHS B4
LOTTERY B3
GAMES B5
LOCAL NEWS B1
OPINION A12
SPORTS C1
TV D7

News Now

LOCAL & STATE

◆ ATTORNEYS FOR NOOR SALMAN, THE WIDOW of the Pulse shooter, argue against allowing her FBI statements as evidence. B1

◆ SCOTT VANDERGRIFT, Ocoee's mayor for 25 years, dies at age 77. B2

◆ A WOMAN WHO SURVIVED an Osceola County accident is missing two puppies who were with her. B3

NATION & WORLD
◆ CONGRESS APPROVES A STOPGAP SPENDING BILL, but fails to complete other priorities, including an $81 billion disaster aid package. A3

◆ THE SOLAR ECLIPSE was one of many happy or lighthearted moments that provided a respite from gloomy news in 2017. A8

BUSINESS
◆ TAVISTOCK SELLS ITS SHARE of Lake Nona Landing shopping center for $52.4 million. A10

◆ THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY is looking into FEMA contracts for Puerto Rico relief awarded to a St. Cloud company. A10

SPORTS

◆ THE INJURY-PLAGUED MAGIC won't make excuses as they enter tonight's game against New Orleans. C1

◆ NEW FSU COACH WILLIE TAGGART connects with his players through their mutual love of hip-hop. C1

PEOPLE & ARTS

◆ REVIEW: Christopher Plummer makes "All the Money in the World" better than it would have been with Kevin Spacey. A2

◆ THE ACCUSERS OF SEXUAL MISCONDUCT in Hollywood are named AP's Entertainers of the Year. A2

Holiday music soothes airport stress

JOE BURBANK/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Travelers watch the Orlando Ballet's Israel Zavaleta and Cara Bell dance to excerpts from "The Nutcracker" at Orlando International Airport. The holiday performances, intended to help passengers cope with the stress of traveling, have been a tradition since 1981. Story, B1

U.N. condemns U.S. decision on Jerusalem

Vote ignores Trump funding-cut threat

By TRACY WILKINSON AND NOGA TARNOPOLSKY
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — In a sharp reproach to the Trump administration, the United Nations overwhelmingly voted Thursday to condemn the U.S. recognition of Jerusalem as Israel's capital, ignoring President Donald Trump's last-minute threats to punish countries that voted against the U.S. position.

The General Assembly approved the resolution 128-9, with 35 abstentions, in an emergency session. The resolution was non-binding, but it was a powerful signal that the White House and Israel remain isolated on an issue of global concern that is popular with Trump's base.

The vote marked the latest sign of how the Trump administration has roiled world affairs, challenging international efforts to combat climate change, to stem human rights abuses and to ease the nuclear standoff with

Please turn to VOTE, A3

Sentencing helps family get closure

By SUSAN JACOBSON
Staff Writer

Every year since their son was murdered, Larry and Becky Oliver have decorated a Christmas tree for him with ornaments depicting his favorite things: soccer balls, footballs and, most importantly, red trucks.

The smiling face of Larry Neal Oliver Jr., frozen in time at age 22, looks down on the 6-foot-tall tree, an urn bearing his ashes on a table below the photo.

It's been 22 years since Oliver was shot to death for his beloved customized red pickup, which he bought new and worked two jobs to maintain.

This year, the Olivers are looking forward to Christmas knowing their long journey through the court system is finally over. Their son's killer, Jermaine "Bugsy" LeBron, 43, was plucked from death row and resented Sept. 28 to life in prison without par-

Please turn to SENTENCE, A6

Apopka pair among dead in bus crash

By STEPHEN HUDAK
Staff Writer

Apopka neighbors of Christophe and Laura Couallier plan to remember the couple New Year's Eve with a toast both celebratory and mournful.

"You couldn't ask for more noble people," said Bill Thompson, 79, of the couple, who were identified Thursday by government officials as two of the cruise-ship tourists killed in a bus crash in Mexico.

Christophe, 55, and his wife, Laura, 53, were en route with other cruise passengers on an excursion to visit Mayan ruins Tuesday when the bus flipped over on a highway.

Authorities said 11 tourists and a Mexican tour guide died.

Thompson described his neighbors of 15 years as "just wonderful, the most loving people who treated everyone here [in the neighborhood] and even strangers always with great sensitivity."

Please turn to CRASH, A6

Oakland preserve hoping to fix Irma-damaged boardwalk

By STEPHEN HUDAK
Staff Writer

Fixing the Oakland Nature Preserve's boardwalk, battered by Hurricane Irma, will require $20,000 and a carpenter willing to brave alligators and snakes.

"Some contractors are a little leery of that," the preserve's managing director Jennifer Hunt said of the reptiles lurking in the marshy muck beneath the wetlands walkway.

Irma toppled trees that broke railings and planks, forcing the nature preserve's directors to close the serpentine boardwalk which winds seven-tenths of a mile to a pavilion on the south side of Lake Apopka.

The preserve's boardwalk was among dozens of trails in Central Florida damaged by the hurricane Sept. 11. While some remain closed more than three months later, other trails that were left impassable have reopened, partly because of the work of bicycle groups and other volunteers who helped clear the way.

On Dec. 9, the St. Johns River

Please turn to NATURE, A7

STEPHEN HUDAK/STAFF

Jim Peterson and Jennifer Hunt, directors of the Oakland Nature Preserve, survey damage Hurricane Irma caused to the boardwalk.

Voices & Opinion

- ◆ FRONT BURNER: Taking sides on net-neutrality impact. A12
- ◆ LETTERS: Drinking age must be enforced on campus. A13
- ◆ GUEST EDITORIAL: Latvala should signal culture change. A13
- ◆ ASK AMY: Does child's non-vaccination put others at risk? B5
- ◆ GEORGE DÍAZ: Bortles, Jaguars are defying the odds. C1

What To Do Today

BRIGHTEN UP!

The holidays have arrived and they come bearing lights. In today's Calendar section, check out some of Central Florida's Christmas displays and activities. Plus an interview with comedian Jim Gaffigan ahead of his appearance at CFE Arena; movie reviews including "Darkest Hour" and "The Shape of Water;" listings and more. INSIDE

A FREE EVENT FOR ADULTS 50+

Orlando Sentinel
successful AGING EXPO

Sunday, Feb 18, 2018 • 9am-4pm

Orange County Convention Center
West Concourse

For more info, go to successfulagingorlando.com

Expert Speakers • Live Entertainment • Over 100 Exhibitors
Health & Wellness • Home Improvement • Financial Services
Retirement Planning • Travel & MUCH MORE

